Studies, Ideas, Interests...

I was born in Lebanon. I grew up in Beirut. After high school, in 2003 I attended a faculty of architectural engineering of BAU – Beirut arab university – where approached the different themes of design & execution. I gained a an important knowledge from my veterans. I graduated in june 2008 (bacalourose degree) with a final project focused central library architectural design & executions drawing & details about interior swimming pool area. As well as designing a convention center during the year. During my life in Beirut, I cultivated my passion for photography, which is my favorite interesting. I had a good fortune to attend workshops with architects from different schools and cultures. At the currently. I work for W.S.K Company for building & contracting in Beirut. I work principally in the field of execu- tion contracting the residential building. I am An Senior contractor & architect specialized in executing residential buildings. With over 11 years of experience in Leb- anon, Beirut, I got proficient in project management of architectural services in new construction and buildings and earned a strong knowledge of international standards and best practices, and good oral and written communication skills in Arabic and Eng- lish. I seek a challenging position in the region that will enable me to capitalize my project management expertise and to get an oppportunity of personal and professional growth.
